

Bio Gertjan Zwanikken

Director of Meat the Truth is Gertjan Zwanikken (1959). He makes documentaries for Dutch television. Until 2004 he worked solely as a director. 5 years ago he started working as a camera man. He specialized in working as a self directing camera man. This resulted in a intriguing series about elderly suffering from Alzheimer's disease in a unique home and a series about the pastoral work in a hospital. Next to this Gertjan Zwanikken has a lot of experience in making both smaller and bigger reports abroad, for television as well as companies. Most of the footage in Meat the Truth has been filmed by Gertjan Zwanikken himself.
